

... there is a message being preached today in the name of a new grace reformation, mixing powerful truth with dangerous error. I call it hyper-grace. One of the foundational doctrines of hyper-grace message is that God does not see the sins of His children, since we have already been made righteous by the blood of Jesus and since all of our sins, past, present and future, have already been forgiven. That means that the Holy Spirit never convicts of sin, that believers never need to repent of their sins, since God sees them as perfect in His sight. It is easy to see how such teaching can be dangerous, especially to a believer being tempted to compromise.

SIGNS AND WONDERS

THE PATTERN SON

The redeemed of the Lord are not only saved unto everlasting life; they are the children of God. When we say we are the children of God and that God is our Father, we are not merely employing terms of inspiration or endearment, we are not making sentimental nor even devout reference to One who has in marvelous condescension taken up towards us an attitude of benevolence and loving kindness. When we say that God is our Father and that we are His children, we are using terms of absolute relationship. We are not merely accepted of God; we are begotten of God. Our relationship to God is not one of divine courtesy but of divine life. We are born of God. Our divine Parentage is as real as, but infinitely more enduring than, our human parentage. As children of God we are partakers-now-of His mighty, miraculous super-nature. Beloved, now are we the sons of God, partakers of His divine nature (2nd Peter 1:4; 1st John 3:2).

The message of the whole of Scripture is that this miraculous super-nature of God should be manifested in His children. Like Father, like son. And God has made full provision for the manifestation of that super-nature in His children in the Gifts of the Holy Spirit.

Again, we are not only co-heirs with the Lord Jesus, by virtue of which relationship He is not ashamed to call us brethren (Hebrews 2:11); we are said to be the children of the Lord (Hebrews 2:13), born of Him, the incorruptible Seed, the eternal, Living Word. As children of the Lord we are possessors of His very nature and ought as such to display evidence in our measure not only of His perfect character but of His mighty divine faculties. We are the sons and daughters of Omnipotence and Omniscience, as well as of Infinite Holiness and Endless Life. The offspring of a bird display every bird-like faculty and characteristic. The moment they are born they are miniature copies of their parents. They eat, breathe, move, think, like a bird. There comes a time when, like a bird, they spread tentative wings and take to the air. The son of a bird can fly. It can also sing. The offspring of an earth-born creature cannot fly nor sing. It has the wrong nature. The heaven-born sons of God should evidence heavenly, that is super-natural, beyond-natural, characteristics. God has provided in the baptism of the Holy Spirit and the resultant Gifts of the Spirit, means for the reproduction of His divine faculties in His children.

Now the heavenly super-nature of our Lord Jesus was manifested not in the carpenter's shop at Nazareth, for there, during the whole of His young manhood, in common with all the carpenter-fellows of His day, He wrought the objects of His trade by human skill and by use of ordinary material tools. The marvelous fabric of His spotless daily life he also wrought through the faith and the Word that were available to the men and women round about Him. His divine super-nature was manifested in His miraculous works wrought by those heaven-given tools, the Gifts of the Holy Spirit, with which He was endowed immediately on His receiving the baptism of the Holy Spirit on that memorable day in Jordan (Matthew 3:16). The Scripture is scarcely more insistent on any subject than on this-that the children of God should express, at least in some fragmentary measure, this divine miraculous super-nature. For this reason, both the Lord Jesus and His children are said in the Prophets to be "for signs and wonders" (Isaiah 8:18). This supernatural divine power and wisdom was seen in unmistakable manifestation in His simple children immediately after their baptism in the Holy Ghost on the day of Pentecost. It was not a theological claim that arrested the devout Jews on that memorable day, but a manifestation of divine wisdom and power in the speaking of miraculous tongues by unlearned followers of the Lord Jesus. It was not a masterly unfolding of the Word that set the envious priests by the ears some time later, but a might and immediate operation of the Gifts of the spirit in a lame-born man by two of the simple children of God. It was not a phenomenal display of evangelical fervour that swept Samaria some time later still, but a repeated demonstration of the Gifts of the Spirit in supernatural healings, through the Spirit-filled hands of one who was not considered capable of ministering the Word of God (Acts 8:6; 6:2-4). Neither was it alone the sweet savour of fragrant holiness in Paul that caused the astounded Lycaonians and the gentle-hearted Maltese barbarians to ascribe to him divine origin and rank, but an unanswerable display of divine power through the Gifts of the Spirit in miracle after miracle of human deliverance (Acts 14:3, 11; 28:6) .

In regeneration the Lord Jesus has stamped upon His begotten ones the impress of His life and loveliness. In the baptism of the Spirit He has designed to charge them with His heavenly dynamic. In the Gifts of the Spirit He has provided for the visible, audible and tangible expression of that dynamic, in the utterance of things that transcend profoundest human thought, and in the doing of things that surpass the utmost human skill. "Behold, I and the children whom the Lord hath given me, are for signs and wonders."

Living for Jesus

T.O. Chisholm

Living for Jesus a life that is true
Striving to please Him in all that I do,
Yielding allegiance, glad-hearted and free,
This is the pathway of blessing for me.

Living for Jesus who died in my place,
Bearing on Calv'ry my sin and disgrace,
Such love constrains me to answer His call,
Follow His leading and give Him my all.

Living for Jesus wherever I am,
Doing each duty in His Holy Name.
Willing to suffer affliction or loss,
Deeming each trial a part of my cross.

Living for Jesus thro' earth's little while,
My dearest treasure, the light of His smile.
Seeking the lost ones He died to redeem,
Bring the weary to find rest in Him.

O Jesus, Lord and Savior, I give myself to Thee;
For Thou, in Thy atonement, didst give Thyself for me;
I own no other Master, My heart shall be Thy throne.
My life I give, henceforth to live, O Christ, for Thee alone.
